WELCOME

back to contents >>

Dear Friends,

High time for more information on the upcoming ESMD meeting in Berlin!

It will be our pleasure meeting our members again and also getting to know new colleagues with new stories, opinions and ideas. That is what ESMD is about!

Germany is an important part of Dental Europe and has played a role in the development of many dental technologies. Our congress committee and scientific committee have spent a lot of time and effort building an innovative program with new names and topics. Interesting new techniques find their way towards daily practice and the combination with microscope magnification opens amazing horizons. Berlin, due to its history, is a city that is an example for changes, progress and paradigm shifts.

ESMD hopes to find you all ready for eye openers that will free the mind and broaden our professional horizon!

Our goal is to illustrate that microscope magnification is beneficial for all dental disciplines. If you are already convinced, we want to inspire and encourage you to move on towards the limits of top quality, minimally traumatic and invasive procedures in a comfortable ergonomical setting for the wellbeing of both the dental team and the patient.

The two tracks: beginners as well as experienced microscope users are always kept in mind in our program. We are convinced that this meets your needs and expectations.

Warm regards,

Philippe Van Audenhove
ESMD president

European Society of Microscope Dentistry

The European Society of Microscope Dentistry is an International Association for Restorative Microdentistry, Periodontal Microsurgery, Microendodontics, Microprosthodontics, Implant Microsurgery and Associated Disciplines.

The Association unites dental practitioners who aspire to apply the latest, accurate and effective dental techniques. ESMD creates an advisory network for dentists of all fields, professionals in associated disciplines and patients, seeking information on the proper treatment.

Open communication and exchange with colleagues and manufactures are the core values in our striving to see Microscope dentistry evolve from exception towards routine.

ESMD invites all dental professionals working with or intending to start working with a dental operating microscope to discover and share the advantages, limitations, opportunities and joys of Microscope dentistry.
